San Jose, Costa Rica; Lima, Peru; Santiago, Chile; La Paz, Bolivia; and Bogota, Colombia. Mexico City is the only city that has previously held an area conference. It was held there in the fall of 1972, said Cahill.

The general authorities going to Mexico City with President Kimball are President Marion G. Romney of the Presidency, Elders Howard W. Hunter and L. Tom Perry of the Council of the Both candidates also kept unofficial returns. Sadowski's camp disputed the AP totals, claiming its candidate had 144,000 votes to McBride's 140,000 at an unspecified number of locals.

"I think there were a lot of questionable figures in the district offices," said Clem Balanoff, a Sadowski aide. "The fact is, we are holding our own."

McBride's staff had its candidate ahead by 281,632 to 196,263 at 4,529 locals. "We could claim victory now and be safe," McBride said by telephone from his home.

Oaks family. Mrs. Stella Oaks, the president's mother, will model her 1929 gown, while Mrs. Oaks and her daughter, Mrs. Sharrin Ward, will trade dresses. Mrs. Ward will model a 1952 dress and her mother a 1973 dress.

The 1964 Miss America runner-up, Mrs. RoseAnne Neilson, will model her own wedding gown in the fashion show. She won her dress for winning runner-up in the contest. Karen Hill, Women's Office administrative assistant, estimated the ensemble cost $3,000 and said it was "unbelievable beautiful."

Camille Curtis, third runner-up in the 1976-77 Homecoming Court, will wear the oldest dress in the fashion show while she comments on the show. The dress was the one her aunt wore when married in 1881. As well as gowns from each era of the 20th Century, some international styles will be shown. Brazilian and English cultures will be represented.

Other examples of international wedding dresses are displayed in the Wilkinson Center Gallery, along with contemporary gowns and articles from old archives.

The entertainment during the fashion show will be related to the era, according to Norma Clifton, Fashion Show entertainment co-ordinator.

Twelve, and Pres. J. Thomas Fyans and Elder Robert D. Hales of the First Quorum of Seventy.

Sister Kimball and the wives of the other general authorities except President Romney's wife, will travel with the group.

Also joining the party is a special representative of the First Presidency for diplomatic affairs, David M. Kennedy, said Don LeFevre, associate director of church press relations. Kennedy's wife will go too, he said.

President Romney, Elder Perry, Elder Hales and Kennedy will be with President Kimball for the entire eight conferences, said Cahill. He added that other general authorities will attend some of the conferences.

The conferences will begin in Mexico City, Mexico Feb. 12 and 13. They will conclude in Bogota, Colombia on March 4, 5 and 6.

Bay Area faces rationing of water

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Showers each night, clean shirts every day and lush green lawns may become luxurious memories for more than a million northern Californians who awoke Wednesday to strict water rationing orders.

Directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, which serves 1.1 million persons across the bay from San Francisco, imposed the new restrictions because a two-year drought has severely reduced reservoir levels.

Just 10 days earlier, 169,000 Marin County residents north of San Francisco were ordered to cut their water use in half. San Francisco has declared a "water emergency" but has not yet enforced any restrictions.

Nominations for ASBYU to be March 1

The Nominations Convention for the ASBYU general elections will be held March 1, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., in the Main Ballroom, ELWC.

Chris Burdick, ASBYU Election Committee chairman, said the convention will be opened by a special speaker, who is yet to be determined. Last year, Provo Mayor Russell Grange was the keynote speaker, she said.

She added nominations would begin after the opening speech. After a nomination is seconded, the vice presidential candidates will have two minutes for an acceptance speech. Presidential candidates and their running mates will have three minutes between them to speak, she said.

Miss Burdick said she hoped to have the Cougar Band play before and after nominations. She also said campaign workers would be there with "all the noise and excitement they can bring."

All interested students should attend and take part in the convention, she said. "I would like to have people at the convention who are not working for a campaign. It's a good way to meet candidates," she said.

According to Miss Burdick, all convention and election advertising would be geared to meeting Election Committee goals of increasing overall awareness of student government and achieving a 50 per cent voter turnout.

Campaigning will begin with the Nomination Convention and last until March 10, the final day of primary balloting, according to Julie Blohm, Election Committee member.

After primary balloting, remaining candidates can campaign until the last day of final balloting, March 18, she said.

Lack of rain and snow has also threatened water shortages in many other areas of the West, and water rationing has been mentioned as a distinct possibility in sections of Oregon and in the Denver area.

The East Bay rationing, covering Oakland and surrounding communities in Alameda and Contra Costa counties, came with warnings that chronic abusers of the restrictions would find their water supply monitored and the valve turned off when the limit was reached.

Each person will be limited to 60 gallons a day with a maximum of 280 gallons per family, regardless of size.

District figures show families in suburban areas of Contra Costa County have been using as much as 845 gallons a day, of which 600 gallons went to landscape watering and other exterior uses.

This compares with East Bay urban dwellers who have been using an average of 325 gallons a day, with 135 gallons for exterior use.

The impact on the lifestyles of Oakland residents could not be immediately gauged, but at least one resident, Catherine Moss, said she and her husband, considered the limit acceptable. "I'm not a wasteful person," she said.

The water shortage will especially affect some businesses.

Andy Shahwan, owner of a Berkeley commercial laundry, said he has been cutting back his water use by 25 per cent for several weeks in anticipation of the district's action.

Leonidas Jackson, proprietor of an Oakland car wash, said simply, "I need water to survive."

The utility district directors declared a "water shortage emergency condition" late Tuesday and ordered the mandatory restrictions implemented immediately.

The goal is to reduce last year's daily average consumption of 220 million gallons of water a day to 164 million gallons daily.

District directors will meet March 8 to consider a strict penalty schedule and possible rate increases. They said they also may review the household allotments.

Director John Reynolds said less severe cutbacks would be enforced against industry because of fears of increasing unemployment.

Under the plan, water supplies for industrial users would be cut 10 per cent; commercial interior users, 25 per cent; multiple dwellings with five or more units, 30 per cent; public agencies' interior use, 25 per cent; public agencies, exterior use, 50 per cent.

Lounge loses license following council vote

The Orem City Council voted unanimously Tuesday night to revoke the business and beer licenses of a lounge raided by police last month.

Kenneth Breton, licensee for the Imperial Lounge, was directed to appear before the city council on Feb. 1 and show cause why the licenses for the lounge should not be revoked. Breton was unable to attend that hearing and the action was postponed until Tuesday's meeting.

Orem City Atty. Frank Butterfield brought the matter of revocation before the council as a result of the arrest and conviction of Breton in Orem City Court on two counts of misdemeanor gambling.

Breton's conviction stemmed from the raid made by Orem Police on Jan. 6.

Breton was represented at the "show cause" hearing by Provo attorney Craig M. Snyder.

After the council made its decision, Snyder and Breton told the Universe they had no comment to make.

When asked whether Breton could reapply for the licenses, Butterfield told the Universe it was a possibility, but it was his understanding that Breton was going to sell the lounge.

In other business, the council commended the former chairman of the Commission on Public Decency, Ed Green, for his work.

The council also approved the appointment of six new members to the commission recommended by the new chairman, Leo Hall.

The commission monitors business and theater compliance with Orem's obscenity ordinance. The council also cleared the way for the city to receive $15,000 from the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation. The money will be used to resurface the city tennis courts.

Experts invited to Y family conference

Specialists from across the country have been invited to present research findings at the sixth annual Family Research Conference. Thursday and Friday in the Wilkinson Center.

"Family Structure and Process in the Socialization of Children" is the theme of the conference sponsored by the Family Research Institute, which is under the direction of the colleges of Social Science and Family Living.

Dr. Boyd Rollins, director of the Family Studies Doctoral Program and in charge of the conference, said the opening session will be in the Varsity Theater at 10 a.m.

Dr. Elliot Landau, University of Utah professor of Child Growth and Development, will be the keynote speaker.

The two featured speakers will present their research in two general sessions at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Varsity Theater.

Dr. Diana Baumrind, research psychologist at the Institute of Human Development of the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at the earlier time and answer the question, "What type of discipline from parents is best?"

Dr. Urie Bronfenbrenner is the other general session speaker and will deal with what is stronger in shaping children's values—the family or school. There will be three special sessions on Thursday and two on Friday.

At 11 a.m. in the Varsity Theater, two papers will answer the question, "Do rich parents use more effective child-rearing techniques than poor parents?"

In 347 ELWC at the same time two studies will be presented on children imitating their parents.

In the Varsity Theater at 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m., the question, "What produces socially competent children?" will be dealt with. "Are children dumber by the dozen?" will be discussed in 347 ELWC.

At 3:15 to 4:45, "Do sex role stereotypes influence family decisions

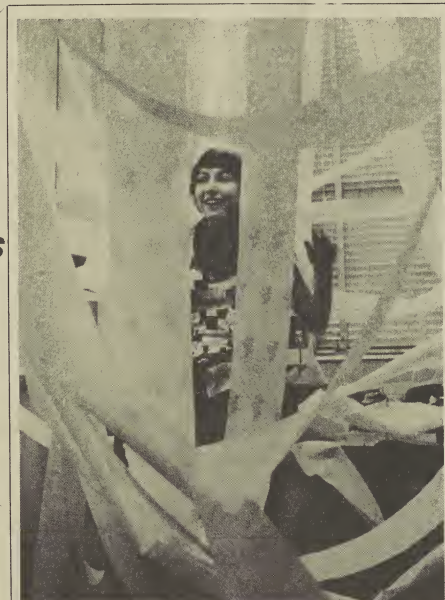

Dr. Elliot Landau ... to keynote conference about girls?" and "Why is the divorce rate so high?" will be in the Varsity Theater and 347 ELWC, respectively.

Friday at 8:30 p.m. in 347 ELWC, "What kind of parents do infants need?" will be covered, and "Does family counseling really help?" will be in 321 ELWC.

After the two general sessions at 3:15, the final two special topics will be presented. In 347 ELWC, "How can parents enhance self esteem in children?" will be held, and "How parents can help children to rely on themselves rather than on others," will be in 321 ELWC.

Dr. Rollins said there will also be a lecture in the multi-purpose area of the SFIC at 3:30. University of Utah professor Calvin Taylor, in conjunction with the College of Education, will speak on "Helping Teachers Develop Creativity in Children."

Too much paperwork

Mrs. Jan Shreeve, a secretary at the Alumni House, was surprised with a birthday party, baby shower and going-away party all in one when she walked into her decorated office Wednesday morning.

Ex-Y coed arrested for larceny

A former BYU student was arrested Monday and charged in Provo City Court with one count of petty larceny.

Nancy Monahan, 27, 1801 N. 950 West Apt. 54, Provo, pleaded guilty to the charge at the arraignment Tuesday and was released on her own recognizance. Mrs. Monahan was referred to the Adult Probation Bureau for pre-sentence evaluation, according to Robert W. Kelshaw, BYU Security police chief.

Since January, 14 cases of thefts of purses and coats have been reported at BYU, Kelshaw said. Bryan Erickson, in cooperation with other investigators on the Security Police staff, followed up on leads provided by witnesses and victims who had seen a female in the area near the time of the thefts.

The suspect was then put under surveillance for 10 hours and arrested while going through a stolen purse. The surveillance was done in cooperation with the Provo Police.

About $1,200 worth of goods was recovered. Many of the items have not been reported as missing or stolen, Kelshaw said. If no one reports the items as missing, Kelshaw said the suspect will have the items returned to her.

Kelshaw said the items were stolen from the Lee Library, Harris Fine Arts Center, Wilkinson Center, Widtsoe Building and the Richards Building.

Mrs. Monahan is the mother of three children and has also been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Campus mail service misused by Y students

Students misuse campus mail service, according to the manager of the BYU Mail Service.

The campus mail service is intended to help people of official function on campus communicate, according to Kay Rasmussen, manager of the BYU Mail Service.

"Lots of students use the campus mail service to send thank-you notes and wedding announcements, and that isn't the purpose of the service. Local businessmen have also tried to use the service improperly," Rasmussen said.

Improper mail sent by way of campus mail must be returned to the

Legislator to boycott 'pig' club

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A Utah legislator says he no longer will accept invitations to the University Club "as long as the male chauvinist pigs operate the way they do."

Rep. Samuel S. Taylor, D-Salt Lake City, told fellow representatives Tuesday his vow was in reaction to a female lawmaker being ejected from the men-only club's grill room last week.

Sen. Frances Farley, D-Salt Lake City, said she had been asked to leave the club room last Friday.

Sen. Farley, the first Utah female senator in 20 years, said she seriously questioned how a club licensed by the state as a liquor locker club could practice sex discrimination.

Schools plan discussion of boundaries

By PAULY BROWN
Universe Staff Writer

School boundaries for the new Timpview High School will be the topic of a special meeting open to the public Feb. 22.

The meeting will allow one spokesman from each elementary school area a final opportunity to comment on the boundaries proposed by the Secondary Boundaries Advisory Committee.

Both the committee and the Provo City School Board will be present at the meeting, which will be held at 7:30 p.m. at a location to be named later. The board will not make a final decision on the boundaries until next month's regular board meeting on March 8.

In other action, the board approved four requests. The first was approval of a "Survey of Youth's Attitudes and Behaviors." The survey, conducted by Dr. Dwayne Payne and funded by the Mountainlands Association of Governments, will gather information from a sample of school children from the Provo School District for the purpose of studying the causes of juvenile delinquency. Mountainlands then hopes to use the data to create preventive programs. Participants will be children who have the consent of their parents.

Other items approved included the date for Provo High School's graduation exercises on May 26 in the Marriott Center; equipment bids for Timpview High School totaling $37,000; and an agreement for the operation of the Provo High swimming pool.

The only item not approved concerned modifying the guidelines of the District Curriculum Advisory Committee. The board asked the committee to reconsider its proposed guidelines.

The board received two presentations from Joaquin School. The first was a slide presentation which the school uses to acquaint parents and others with the services offered by the school. The other presentation was a report from Joaquin faculty member Sam Francis of a television show produced by actress Diane Baker last fall using Francis' class.

Other presentations included a review of the district's elementary music program, a report on the "Youth in the Law Program," and a visit by Rep. Lee Farnsworth to discuss items before the Utah Legislature which pertain to the schools.

Space shuttle to go for ride

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—America's space shuttle, the Enterprise, gets a piggyback ride atop a Boeing jumbo jet Thursday for weight and balance testing in preparation for its first flight later this month.

The 122-foot-long orbiter is scheduled to begin taxi tests as early as next Tuesday and a flight test Feb. 18. In both tests the Enterprise will be unoccupied.

The weight and balance and taxi testing is to make sure the two craft are in proper balance and that there will be no excessive vibration.

The Boeing 747 will also be used later to carry the space shuttle to an altitude where it can be released and flown back to Edwards on its first solo flight tests.

Hostage says he's being treated fairly

INDIANAPOLIS — A mortgage company executive held hostage for nearly two days in an explosive-rigged apartment told police Wednesday he's "being treated all right" by a vengeful gunman who said he was cheated on a $130,000 loan.

Meanwhile, authorities considered granting the gunman, Anthony G. "Tony" Kiritisi, 44, of Indianapolis, immunity from prosecution to break the tense standoff.

Spain re-establishes Soviet relations

MADRID — Spain reestablished diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union Wednesday, ending a nearly 40-year rift that began when Francisco Franco's rightists won the Spanish civil war.

A few hours after the announcements in Madrid and Moscow, King Juan Carlos began a mission to heal another rift of the Franco years by flying to Rome for a meeting with Pope Paul VI — the first visit by a Spanish ruler to a Roman Catholic pontiff since 1923.

Arrests follow violence in Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia — A wave of arrests by Ethiopia's leftist military government has followed last week's violent power struggle in which the chief of state and 10 others died, diplomats in the Ethiopian capital report. Bolstered by well-organized rallies of tens of thousands of Ethiopians throughout the nation, the government has also started arming members of Urban Dwellers Associations, which handle local community affairs.

Peruvian Club offers sign-ups

The Peruvian Club will sponsor a table in the Reception Center, ELWC Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to the club president.

All Latin American students, returned missionaries from the area and all other individuals interested in Latin American studies are encouraged to sign up at the table, Able T. Gonzales, Peruvian Club president, said.

More information about the club and its activities and goals will be available at the table, Gonzales said.

ANNOUNCING YOUR ENGAGEMENT

Announcements should be sent to the newspapers, both in your home town and your fiancé's, if he lives elsewhere. Type or print all information. Indicate the date when you would like the announcement to appear. Allow plenty of time. Be sure your name, address, and telephone number are on the upper right hand corner.

Many papers and some photographers have forms on which to fill in your name, your fiancé's name, names and residences of both sets of parents, background information on you both, and the expected date of your wedding. Society editors decide how much of this they can use. You may send along an 8" by 10" glossy photograph, with caption attached written on a separate piece of paper, not on the back.

AN ENGAGEMENT PARTY

Often the bride's family wishes to celebrate the official announcement with a party for the couple. If the bride's family lives a great distance away, the groom's parents may do this, if they wish. It is absolutely essential that both the bride and her fiancé be in attendance. If this is not possible (military separation, school separation, etc.), the party must wait.

Cougar rifle team captain John Babcock aims for target in preparation for upcoming competition.

Rifle teams eye competition against intermountain rivals

By GORDON JOHNSTON
University Staff Writer

BYU's two rifle teams, the Blue 'A' team and White 'B' team, are hoping to take top honors this year in the Intermountain Shooter's League over rivals Utah State and Idaho State.

According to Sgt. First Class Jon DeFrehn, coach of the team, the Blue team is 6-1 in its division, and the White team is leading its division with a 9-0 mark.

DeFrehn, in his first year as coach, said one of the biggest challenges facing the team is recruiting. "Many students on campus just don't know about it," he said.

He also pointed out the team is open to anyone on campus. "A lot of people think because the Army ROTC sponsors the team, that you have to be a cadet to join. This is not so. In fact, we only have three cadets on the team this year."

Another challenge DeFrehn and team adviser Capt. Michael Merz face is the budget of the team. According to DeFrehn, BYU Physical Plant pays the fees for range rental, but the remainder of the bill, including weapons, jackets, and equipment falls on the Army ROTC. In contrast, many other teams are funded by their student body, he said.

"Next September, we plan to contact ASBYU to become a school-sponsored team. One reason is the team is open to the whole school student body, not just ROTC cadets," he said.

The team practices at the rifle range at Timpanogos Park in Provo, next to the swimming pool. "It is an eight-point range, which means that eight persons can shoot at one time," said DeFrehn. "In order for the BYU team to be able to host a match, at least a 10 to 15-point range is needed."

Weber State, Utah, Utah State, Idaho State and newcomer Montana State also field squads in the Intermountain Shooter's League. DeFrehn said last year Idaho State won the championship, trailed closely by Utah State. BYU came in fourth.

"This year things are different," he said. "We have won more competitions than any other team in the league this year, and we have beaten Utah State two times out of three. However, they remain slightly ahead in aggregate score, but we hope to catch them."

BYU faces Utah State two more times this year, with the next competition in Salt Lake City Saturday.

Each team member uses a specially designed .22 caliber rifle without a scope on it, although they may look through a scope that is nearby before shooting. "Each person must shoot at targets that are the size of a silver dollar," DeFrehn said. "They have to fire 20 shots from each of three positions — standing, kneeling, and prone — or 60 shots total. A bulls-eye is worth 10 points, for a total possible score of 600. In addition to hitting the center circle for a bulls-eye, if a shot knocks out the center dot, it counts as an 'x'. Scores of the top four shooters are figured into the team score."

DeFrehn said, "Nobody on the 'A' or 'B' team is guaranteed a position. If someone comes along and shoots better, then they take over that spot on the team. This encourages real competition."

DeFrehn also pointed out that the league awards a trophy to the women's high scorer, and that he is interested in starting a women's team as well as a men's.

DeFrehn and Merz both said they hope to be able to field a pistol team in the future.

ACLU trial date to be set

A trial date for a housing discrimination suit against Cedarcrest Apartments will be set next week, according to Shirley Pedler of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU).

The suit, filed on behalf of Elaine Joyce Alston, alleges that she was not allowed to rent an available apartment in Cedarcrest because the unit was in the "male only" section of the complex.

Cedarcrest segregates male and female apartments in voluntary compliance with BYU housing policy.

Ms. Pedler said a date had not yet been set because law requires 20 days elapse after the suit is filed to find areas of common agreement between opposing parties.

Ms. Pedler said it was not possible to tell if any points of common agreement would be found at the present time.

The 20-day time period ends next week, after which a trial date will be set, she said.

Indian Week will offer entertainment, education

BYU Indian Week, which begins Sunday and ends Feb. 18, will feature entertainment as well as educational activities.

Fashion shows, talent shows, and a speech contest are some of the events offered during the six-day affair, according to Kent Dukepoo and Eleanor Boyd, co-chairmen of Indian Week.

To educate the public, Dukepoo said, the Indian Week committee has scheduled several lectures that will feature prominent Indians, and has arranged to make displays available daily in the Stepdown Lounge, ELWC.

Ray Tracey, Indian star of "Joe Panther," will discuss his rise to fame, and Miss Indian America, Kristine Sheridan, will outline the role of today's Indian woman. Other lectures, given by Indian leaders in the country, will focus on such topics as legal rights for Indians and the impact of the written word on Indians today, according to Dukepoo and Miss Boyd.

The Lamanite Generation and the Tribe of Many Feathers' Intertribal Choir are each scheduled to perform during the week. Highlighting the week's activities will be the Intertribal Exchange on the 16th when Indians will perform traditional dances from each represented tribe, Dukepoo said.

Y cadets fly high with scholarships

BYU's Air Force ROTC has the third highest number of cadets on scholarship in the nation, according to a BYU ROTC officer.

Capt. John Patrick released the figures, compiled Oct. 31, showing 96 of the 190 BYU Air Force cadets were receiving Air Force scholarships.

He said BYU also ranks 11th nationally in the number of students enrolled in the Air Force ROTC, of schools with non-compulsory ROTC programs.

"I think the quality of the BYU students is indicated by the number of scholarships awarded to the cadets," Capt. Patrick said. "The cadets here compete on a nationwide basis for these scholarships, and the fact that 46 per cent of the cadets here are receiving scholarships shows that they compete very favorably, he said.

The purpose of the scholarships is to provide funds for the students to pay for their schooling. He said, "There are scholarships that range from two years to four years, and some pay up to full tuition, fees and books as well as $100 a month. This is in exchange for a military obligation of six years for a pilot or navigator and four years for others."

In comparison, Capt. Patrick said the University of Utah has seven of 31 cadets receiving scholarships, and Utah State University has 19 or 56.

Library seminar to tell about computerized index

A one-hour seminar on how to conduct a computerized literature search will be held today in 625 HBL.

The seminar will demonstrate the value of a computerized search as compared to a manual search, according to Doug Bush, assistant director of the library.

The computerized search, Bush said, will deal with the indexes and abstracts: ERIC, Dissertation Abstract, Psychological Abstracts and the Social Science Citation Index.

Missionary death

Elder seeks new trial judge

A motion was filed last Thursday in Saline County Court for substitute judges in the case of Douglas R. Bjelde, charged with murder in connection with the Jan. 3 death of his missionary companion.

David Watt, defense attorney for the Wisconsin 20-year-old, said it is a law that an attorney can file for substitute judges and he had "good reason to do it." He declined to comment more on the action.

Walden Morris, state's attorney for the case, when asked about the action, said Watt didn't like the judges assigned to the case. The hearing for the motion is scheduled for Feb. 16.

Morris said there is no death penalty and no degree of murder in Illinois. Rather, there is a minimum prison sentence of 14 years and a maximum sentence of life.

Bjelde's arraignment awaits results of a psychiatric examination given in St. Louis three weeks ago. Bjelde remains in the Saline County jail in Harrisburg.

Morris said he and his associates do not get to talk with Bjelde. All he knows is that Bjelde eats the meals taken to him, he said.

Watt said Bjelde does a lot of reading. He reads the Book of Mormon and the Bible.

Bjelde took his companion, James E. Christensen, to the hospital Dec. 31, 1976. Christensen, 24, of Moroni, died Jan. 2, 1977 in the Pearce Hospital at Eldorado, Ill.

Morris said Christensen was allegedly beaten on the head with fists and this caused his death. He had also allegedly been forced into a tub of hot water, which resulted in severe burns to his hands, feet, arms and buttocks.

Christensen's father said the Kentucky Louisville Mission does not have junior or senior companions. Christensen had been in the mission field for 22 months. Bjelde had been in the field about one year.

Asked if he thought the missionary meant to kill his companion, Morris said, "I have no idea."

Morris said the trial will be by jury. The two missionaries lived together in a mobile home in Harrisburg for several weeks.

Applications due for scholarships

Application deadline for those scholarships that will be awarded for spring term 1977 and fall and winter semesters 1977-1978 has been set for March 1.

Academic scholarships are awarded on the basis of scholastic merit through competitive application, according to Ford Stevenson, director of Student Financial Aids. He said applicants must have a GPA of at least 3.50 in order to be considered for a scholarship. Students who wish to apply for special scholarships must meet the same March 1 deadline. These special scholarships are listed in the Financial Aid Brochure. He said the brochure and applications for academic scholarships are available in A-41 ASB.

"Students who submit scholarship applications will be notified one way or the other before the end of the semester," Stevenson said.

Free income tax consultation available

A free income tax consultation program for students with tax worries will begin today.

The program, sponsored by the Accounting Honorary Society, Beta Alpha Psi, and the Omicron Chapter, will be given each Thursday and Monday afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. until April 11 in 109 and 101 ELWC.

Greg Smith, Beta Alpha Psi treasurer, said the tax consultation on campus is part of the Voluntary Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program of the Internal Revenue Service.

Smith said about 40 Beta Alpha Psi members will work as volunteer consultants in this year's program. They will be able to give limited help and advice. He said serious or difficult problems will be referred to a lawyer in the community through the Omicron Chapter.

Mrs. Marylyn Spencer, Internal Revenue Service taxpayer specialist in charge of public education, said the VITA program is designed to help low-income taxpayers and senior citizens. She said program volunteers are trained to offer help with the 1040 A forms and 1040 returns plus "basic, simple itemized deductions."

Smith said this is the fourth year the program has been on campus, and students should watch the Universe for notice of specific times and places.

Preference sets record

More than 8,000 BYU students participated in this semester's Preference activities, the largest attendance ever.

Activities included 11 dances and two concerts, according to Sharon Sullivan, publicity chairman for Preference. Dianne Curtis, Women's Office vice president, said it was the largest Preference in the history of BYU.

Six dances were held Friday night and five Saturday night in locations throughout the area. Other Preference activities included co-sponsorship of the Starbuck pillow concert, Miss Sullivan said, and co-sponsorship of the Melissa Manchester concert.

She said Elder Ezra Taft Benson, President of the Council of the Twelve, attended Friday night's Skyroom dinner dance. Pictures taken at all Preference dances will be available for pickup by students beginning Feb. 28 outside the ASBYU offices on the fourth floor.

Y grounds chief notes 25 years

By JOHN LLOYD
Universe Staff Writer

Twenty-five years ago the grounds department consisted of one man, Wendy Jarvis. Today, as superintendent of Grounds and Services, Jarvis oversees a crew of more than 140 people.

Besides being responsible for the landscaping and maintenance of all BYU property, the Language Training Mission and the Provo Temple grounds, Jarvis supervises the removal of snow from walks and roadways and the upkeep of all athletic fields and facilities.

Although the job often requires him to return to work late at night or on weekends, Jarvis said he enjoys his work. "I like the variety of it," he said. Jarvis said there is never a shortage of work to do in the grounds department, which now cares for five times the area it covered when he first started at BYU, including 230 acres of lawn which must be cut.

Uses talents

"Wendy has dedicated his talents to BYU," said Ross Rieske, who has worked with Jarvis for 22 years. He said Jarvis has invented several tools to save the school money. One of these tools allows a workman to replace a sprinkler head in less than two minutes. This helps greatly in maintaining the school's 82,000 sprinkler heads, he said.

Jarvis also found a way to convert old aircraft tugs into grounds vehicles. These served the school for over twenty years before being replaced by small import pickup trucks. When Jarvis started at BYU he said the grounds department didn't have a single piece of equipment.

Enjoys landscaping

Jarvis said he has enjoyed landscaping for nearly 50 years. He worked for many years in Northern California landscaping for a nursery, and served as superintendent of parks for Ogden before joining the BYU staff.

Jarvis said he hopes to increase the number of large trees around the campus, by relocating many trees that have been donated to the school.

Jarvis and his wife, Myrl, live in Lindon. They are the parents of four daughters and one son. He is now serving as a high counselor in the Pleasant Grove Stake. He is also involved as a member of the city planning commission and has been on the city council.

"I always manage to have at least two or three jobs at any given moment. I like to be busy," he said.

MARITAL SKILLS WORKSHOP for Engaged and Newly Married Couples

Eugene Mead, Ed.D., will present an educational workshop for engaged and newly married couples. The workshop is designed to help couples improve their communication skills, reduce or prevent fighting, and strengthen their interpersonal relationships. Four sessions will be held for two hours each. Training will focus around (but will not be limited to) the following topics: (1) Improving marital communications; (2) Establishing marital goals and roles; (3) Planning for negotiated changes and progress; and (4) Resolving disagreements.

Sessions will meet weekly starting Saturday, February 12, 8-10 a.m. and Wednesday, February 16, 6-8, and 8:30-10:30 p.m.

Opera 'Magic Flute' deals with eternal life

By MITCH SNOW
Universe Staff Writer

An opera whose story contains a parable of eternal life will open Feb. 25 at BYU.

Dr. Clayne Robison, artistic director for "The Magic Flute," said the essential elements of the opera are wisdom, teachability and a sense of humor.

The production will run Feb. 25, 28 and March 1, 2, and 4.

Although Mozart's music will remain unchanged for this production, Robison has completely revised the English libretto.

"The original (German) libretto struggles to deal with the important, eternal issues of life," he said. "We took the artistic liberty to have the characters in the play say the words which we feel Mozart would have had them say had he known what we know about these important issues of life."

Robison said that the opera treats such things as the opposition of light and darkness and the transcendence of wisdom and love. He added that many personalities of the eternities, such as Adam and Eve, the prophets and Satan can be seen in this parable.

Many opera plots are not suited to production at BYU because they don't deal directly with the most important, positive principles of life. "The Magic Flute" is an exception to this, according to Robison.

He said that although "The Magic Flute" is called a musical comedy, it is much more complex. "It is a masterpiece of humor, but it is also a masterpiece of philosophy. Like Shakespeare's 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,' it's hard to classify as a romance or a comedy."

The ideas of the piece should come through to the audience, Robison said. A matinee is planned for fourth, fifth and sixth graders at the local school districts, he said, and added that they should enjoy it too.

Robison said "The Magic Flute" is the most exciting thing he has done at BYU, including his multi-media production of Handel's "Messiah."

The story concerns the Order, an organization of men devoted to love, truth, and the worship of God. Admission to the order is based on righteousness and involves initiation through magical tests, Robison said.

"The Magic Flute" tells of the struggles between the Order and the Queen of the Night over possession of the Circle of the Sun, an object with magical powers. The story also tells of two couples and their involvement with the Order, the queen and the Circle of the Sun, according to Robison.

Nearly all the cast members are students, Robison said, only the two Queens of the Night are not. The show has been double-cast for the 18 solo roles. BYU's Symphony Orchestra will provide the orchestral music, he said.

Cast members include G. Leon Archibald as the King, David Rich and Matthew Walter Bean as Sarastro, Debra Bennett Mitchell and Elizabeth G. Hedquist as the Queen of the Night, Robert Dunn and Stacy Aronson as Tamino, Martin K. Wright and Britton Davis as Papageno, and Leslie Spraker Baliff and Loretta King as Papagena. Students in double-cast roles will appear on alternate nights, Robison said.

Actor, wife win honors in England

LONDON (AP) — Sir Laurence Olivier, whose acting laurels already include an Oscar, collected another honor Tuesday.

He was named best film actor of 1976 for his portrayal of a Nazi war criminal in "Marathon Man" at the annual British Variety Club Awards ceremony in London.

Elevated to Lord Olivier in 1970, the 69-year-old actor received his Oscar in 1948 for "Hamlet."

Lady Oliver — actress Joan Plowright — was voted best stage actress for her performance in the London play, "The Bed Before Yesterday."

Intertribal Choir to perform

The BYU Intertribal Choir, featuring world famous Indian flutist Doc Tate Nevaguya, will hold a special Family Home Evening program in the ELWC Main Ballroom Monday at 5:30 p.m.

The choir will perform traditional Indian songs and dances from Kiowa, Comanche, Hopi, Sioux, Creeks and Navajo tribes.

Doc Tate Nevaguya is one of very few Indian flutists in the country. He has gained national recognition for his sensitivity in interpretation of Southern Plains Indian flute music.

The BYU Intertribal Choir was organized in 1974 by a group of students dedicated to the idea that native American music had much to contribute because of its ability to communicate feelings and ideas in a unique style.

Since its organization, the choir has performed throughout the region for both Indian and non-Indian audiences. The choir has 36 native American singers representing over 20 different tribes and tribal blends. One feature of the choir is the traditional dress presentation. The presentation gives a description of the traditional dress of each tribe represented in the choir.

Wayne western to be shown

This Week Film Society features "Stagecoach," the movie that launched John Wayne on the path of stardom.

In this major Western, Wayne plays "The Ringo Kid," a prison escapee set on getting revenge for the murders of his father and brother. The movie is also noted for the 1939 Academy Award-winning performance (best supporting actor) of Thomas Mitchell as Doc Boone. Claire Trevor, who played Dallas, was nominated for the best actress award for her role in "Stagecoach." Andy Devine plays Buck, a comical stagecoach driver.

Director John Ford is known for choosing actors who fit the stereotyped roles his screenplays seem to require. Each character has a definite personality, and Ford typecast the parts remarkably well. John Wayne plays a subtle yet dynamic role, making the audience anticipate each action. Director Ford used artistically differing camera techniques and scenery to project moods. He used situations and settings to create an atmosphere almost unbelievably realistic, considering the cinema technology of the 1930s.

The movie was filmed in the mesas and buttes of Monument Valley in Arizona, the setting for many of Ford's success films. Showing in 1939, "Stagecoach" has to compete with "Gone With the Wind," "Good-bye Mr. Chips," "The Wizard of Oz," and other film giants. The film held its own, continuing the list of successes for director Ford, and establishing Wayne as a star. A New York Times review said of the film, "This is truly a stagecoach powered by a Ford."

Two BYU films near completion

Two films about family relations are now in production at the BYU Motion Picture Studios.

According to Jesse Stay, director of Media Productions, "The Mailbox" and "The Gift That Lasts a Lifetime" are near completion.

Shooting for "The Gift That Lasts a Lifetime" will be finished in just a few days, Stay said. The story deals with love between father and son, according to Stay, and was adapted for the screen from a story by Pearl Buck.

Carol Lynn Pearson wrote the original screenplay, Stay said. Doug Johnson, director of the film, and Susan McCloud did the final script.

"The Mailbox" should be finished in a couple of months, Stay said. The film deals with an 83-year-old woman whose children have all grown up and moved away from home. She misses them and wishes they would write. "Our goal is to have the people who see this film go home and write to their parents and grandparents," Stay said.

Opportunities for Team Research Available for Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates!

An opportunity to participate with a large governmental agency as a member of one of several teams dealing with program development and research is offered through the College of Social Sciences under the direction of the Political Science department. The department has twenty-five openings for students with upper division and graduate training in the following areas:

- |   |             |
|---|-------------|
| College of Business -                           | 2 positions |
| Graduate School of Management -                 | 6 positions |
| College of Family Living -                      | 1 position  |
| College of Communications -                     | 2 positions |
| College of Humanities -                         | 1 position  |
| College of Physical and Mathematical Sciences - | 3 positions |
| College of Physical Education -                 | 1 position  |
| College of Social Sciences -                    | 7 positions |
| Law School -                                    | 1 position  |
| College of Engineering Sciences -               | 1 position  |

The above positions will be supervised by two faculty members from Brigham Young University and several project directors with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department assisted by members of the Rand Corporation, Jet Propulsion Labs, USC, UCLA, and the local Bar Association

The projects are geared toward the needs of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department and the participants will work with them while gaining real-life experiences within their major fields of study. Such experiences provide the participant with possible future employment in desired areas of study.

The student will work on the project in the Los Angeles area between May 1, 1977 and August 1, 1977. There will be a twelve month period of credit for their participation. A cost effectiveness study will take this year in order to fund the program in subsequent years, consequently, there is no funding available for the participant. The program should be attractive to the students living in the Los Angeles area, since it gives practical experience in fields of interest. Part-time employment should be obtained for those desiring it, but encourage students to apply who want to continue their education during the summer months and are willing to be self-sufficient.

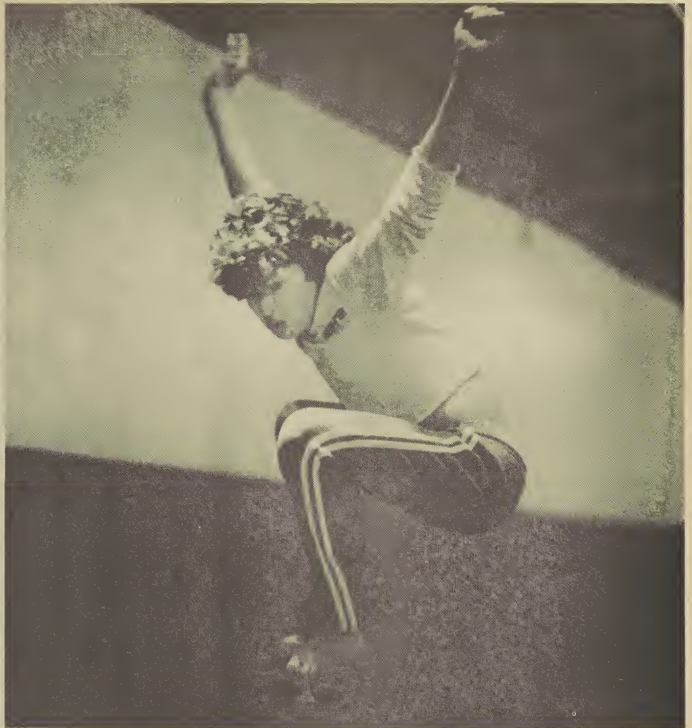

Further information can be obtained by calling Walter Barrus at Ext. 3422, Study at Ext. 3946, or attending a presentation to be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, 1977, Room 562 ELWC at 2 P.M. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Skateboarding craze more than just a fad

By TOM BOYCE
Universe Staff Writer

When skateboarding first appeared in the 1960s, people thought that it was just a passing fad. In a way they were right. Skateboarding passed right from a fad into a full-fledged sport.

The skateboarding craze was at first inexpensive for its followers. However, as skateboarding became more popular the sport got more expensive. Today it is not uncommon to pay as much as $50 to $75 for a custom-made board.

Inexpensive hobby

The skateboarding enthusiasts don't seem to mind the initial cost, for once they pay for their board, there is nothing more to buy and the sport becomes cheaper than most hobbies.

Saturday the BYU Skateboard Club, in conjunction with the ASBYU Athletics Office, held its first invitational skateboarding contest.

It drew about 15 skateboarders from BYU, Utah Technical College and other schools in the Provo area. The contestants battled in such events as the freestyle, long jump and downhill slalom.

The freestyle and long-jump events were held at the Riverside Roller Rink. At first the contestants were cold from waiting outside until the rink opened. But they soon got hot on a makeshift ramp brought by one of the skateboarders. The ramp later became an official part of the freestyle competition.

The slalom and downhill events were held on Cedarcrest Road. Slalom, similar to the race used in skiing competition, was one of the more popular events with almost all the contestants competing.

Downhill racing, one of the more dangerous because skateboarders often attain speeds of more than 35 mph, was another popular event.

Division Champion

Dirk DeGraw, a BYU freshman from San Diego, proved to be No. 1 in the advanced division competition. He won virtually every event.

Don Losee from Farrer Junior High School was close on his heels. In every event, Losee came in second. In the novice division competition, Ian Nishimoto, a freshman from UTC, came in first.

'2nd season' starts tonight

By GIFFORD NIELSEN
Universe Sports Writer

A new basketball season starts tonight in Laramie, Wyo., as the BYU Cougars try to turn their dismal 1-6 record around when the second half of the conference race begins.

The Cougars will play Wyoming tonight, then travel to Fort Collins to play Colorado State Saturday afternoon in a regionally telecast contest starting at 12:30 p.m. MST.

Coach Frank Arnold feels optimistic about the second half of the season. "We're going to be bouncing back and we still have a complete round-a game against every team in the league — to make our presence felt."

Tonight when the Cougars take on Wyoming they will meet the only team they were able to beat in the first half of the season. BYU was at its best one month ago to defeat Wyoming in Provo by 33 points.

Wyoming will not be an easy game for the Cougars as the Cowboys improved their conference record last weekend to 4-3 by defeating UTEP on its home floor, then losing to New Mexico. The Cowboys played a tremendous game in defeating the Miners in overtime by a score of 62-59.

With the record the Cougars have, thoughts of the cellar could spark them to a better showing in the second half.

Coach Arnold hadn't decided who the starting team would be up to the time team members left for the road trip.

The Cougars have a few minor injuries mixed with the quitting of Nick Naki, a 6-8 junior forward from Zagreb, Yugoslavia, who indicated he would return home last Tuesday morning.

"He told me he had hoped to play more ball here at BYU," explained Arnold, "but he also understood why he wasn't getting more playing time. He liked the university and the people, but I think he was anxious to go home, too."

Arnold also mentioned that Vance Law's knees are getting progressively worse and that he needed a few days off in order for them to be ready this weekend.

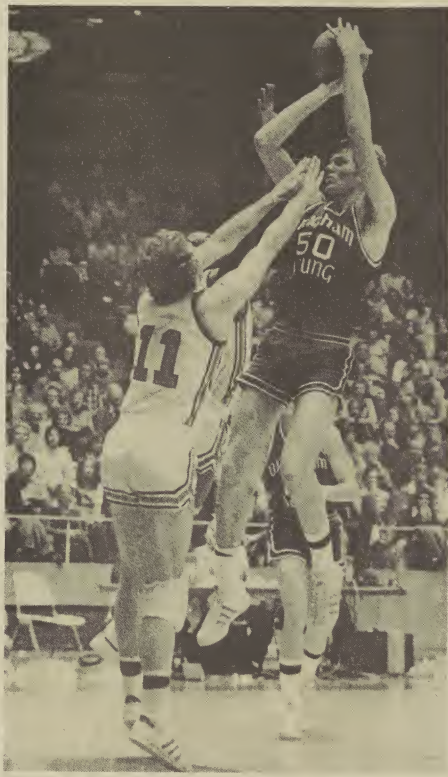

Mark Handy wrenched his neck on Monday, but the team left for Laramie, Arnold said it was feeling better and he should be ready to play.

Vance Law did not travel with the team Wednesday because his wife Anne was giving birth to a baby boy, born Wednesday morning. The senior guard plans to join the team sometime today.

With the loss of Naki, the squad was narrowed to 12 players. Since the Cougars do not have a junior varsity squad to draw from, they will finish the season with those on the current varsity roster.

With all the problems the Cougars are experiencing Arnold still thinks his team can beat the Cowboys. "The only time we have watched them play this year, they haven't played very well," Arnold said, "but we know they are tough because they beat Arizona, UTEP on the road, and fought Utah in a very close contest."

Coach Arnold emphasized that the Cougars' morale and attitude is super and he feels good about the chances this weekend.

Golfers begin season today

By ROD COLLETT
Universe Sports Writer

The BYU golf team, with four All-Americans returning from its most successful season ever, opens the 1977 season Feb. 10-12 at the Pan American Intercollegiate in Monterrey, Mexico.

Fifteen of the top U.S. teams and six Mexican teams will be represented at the Pan American, where BYU will renew its rivalry with Oklahoma State. The Cat golfers are the defending team champion in the Mexico event, but the Cowboys from OSU edged the Y for the NCAA title last summer.

Other nationally ranked teams include Houston, Texas, Florida and WAS squads from Arizona State and New Mexico. Each team will enter five players with four scores counting each day. The tourney will run for 54 holes.

Coach Karl Tucker, who has been the district coach of the year three of the last four years, is very optimistic about his returning linksters. "We're playing very well and looking forward to an excellent season."

All-American Jim Nelford, a two-time Canadian Amateur champion, is the defending individual medalist at the Pan American. Other Y golfers making the trip to Mexico will be first team All-American, Mike Brannan, WAC titlist Jim Blair, Pat McGowan and Stan Souza.

BYU is coming off a strong fall season in which the Cougars won the Rocky Mountain, Tucker and Rebel tournaments. The two other showings, the Patio Springs and Beehive Invitational, the Cats were second but did not field the entire first team.

After a week's rest following the Mexico trip, the Cougars play in the Rainbow Classic in Honolulu, Feb. 24-26.

Netters to face nation's best

By RON KNOWLTON
Universe Sports Writer

With a big win in Las Vegas two weeks under their belts, the Cougars now step up to face a greater challenge this weekend in the National Intercollegiate Invitational Tennis Team Championships in Madison, Wisconsin.

The tournament features a rich field with top-ranked Southern California, Trinity of Texas and Stanford among the teams participating.

BYU will have its hands full, as the Cougars are slated to face Southern California in the first round. The National Intercollegiate Feb. 10-13 contains a whole field of All-Americans including Bruce Manson and Chris Lewis of USC, Bill Maze and Matt Mitchell of Stanford, Jeff Robinson of Alabama and Big Ten champion Francisco Gonzales of Ohio State.

BYU Coach Wayne Pearce has confidence that the team will do well. He expects the team will give USC "good matches."

Should the Cougars come up short against the Trojans in the first round, they will have another chance in early March when they meet USC again.

Pearce notes his squad was the only WAC team invited to the National Intercollegiate and was pleased his team was one of the top 16 collegiate teams invited to participate in the event.

Stanford has held the team title for the last three years the tournament has been held. They won the title in 1973, 1975 and 1976. The Cardinals are again one of the top title contenders.

The Cougar team will include All-American Bruce Kleeg, John Bennet, Denny Bond, Eric Peterson, Chris Smith, Joel Miller and Rich Williams. The Cougars will have a full list of entries for the six singles and three doubles matches.

Besides winning the Las Vegas Intercollegiate, BYU won the Utah Supremacy award in the Utah Classic. The Cougars also finished fourth in the National Classic in Palm Springs, California, a tournament which included most of the national powers.

Height, scoring come to cagers

"The only things I miss about Florida are the beaches and warm weather," says BYU freshman Tina Gunn.

"I haven't even been homesick for my parents because I phone them regularly and they always sound cheerful."

Tina is the newest basketball star in the BYU women's athletic galaxy. She enrolled at BYU just a month ago after her graduation in December from St. Petersburg Catholic High School, St. Petersburg, Fla.

She already sparked the women's basketball team to a big win when she scored 25 points and snatched 18 rebounds in a game against Colorado State. And she didn't get to play the last 10 minutes of the game because of an inflamed Achilles tendon.

Why did the seventeen-year-old, pony-tailed, 6-4, straight-A student travel 2,000 miles to enroll at BYU?

The answer is brief. Tina wants a solid education and she wants to play basketball and volleyball for a major university.

As a matter of fact, Tina decided on BYU before she had even seen the place. Her chief encouragement came from her high school coach, Rose Ann Benson, a graduate of BYU who is now back at the Provo campus working towards her master's degree.

"Rose Ann's description of the BYU campus, her praise of the faculty and of the physical education facilities, the immediate response and interest of the university to my inquiries, and the national reputation of Miss (Elaine) Michaels as a volleyball coach helped me to decide," Tina said.

In high school, Tina's competitive sports were the shot put and the discus. She won first place in both events at the Florida State High School Track Meet last year.

But whether she will add field events to basketball and volleyball at BYU is still in doubt. When the basketball season is over in March, she plans to join Miss Michaels' USVBA team - a volleyball team organized for players who will be eligible for varsity volleyball at BYU next year.

Certainly, Tina is not taking the easy scholastic route at BYU. Her Presidential Scholarship demands that she maintain a 3.7 grade point average and carry a minimum of 15 hours each semester.

She plans to major in chemical engineering, to minor in bio-engineering with perhaps a degree in medicine after that.

Tina got her first look at BYU last August when she flew from St. Petersburg to attend the volleyball summer camp conducted by Coach Michaels.

Tina returned to the BYU campus just before Christmas with her parents as guests of Miss Benson. But she scarcely had time to open her Christmas presents before she started practice with the women's basketball team.

"At first the high altitude took my wind, but after 10 days I was acclimated," Tina says.

"Miss Michaels began by teaching me intricacies of basketball I'd never known about. She corrects my mistakes and has me practice a specific skill. If I continue to make a mistake, she has me try again. Her criticism is always constructive. She never gets down on me."

Tina readily acknowledges that her 6-4 height is an advantage in playing basketball and volleyball. And she really hasn't felt any disadvantage to being tall. "Even though I came from a small high school and was taller than most of the guys, I had a good time anyway."

"My mom influenced me to stand straight," she adds. "I've just always accepted my height."

If everything seems to be in place for Tina Gunn at BYU, the coaches, the student body and other fans of women's sports are feeling comfortable, too, knowing they have four years to watch the young star develop her potential brilliance.

"Mr. Ford will play four of the five rounds," Hope said during a weekend visit to New York. "He will have a variety of partners — Sammy Davis Jr., Dave Stockton, Billy Casper, Lee Elder, Jackie Gleason and Flip Wilson."

Millions of TV viewers saw the ex-President chip in from off the green for a net eagle at the Crosby.

"We played Tamarisk the other day," Hope said. "It is, you know, one of the country's toughest courses. The President shot a 40 on the front side with a double bogey at the ninth. Even with two out-of-bounds, he had an 86."

Hope's Desert Classic is a five-round, 90-hole competition instead of the regulation 72 holes. The pros play with rotating amateur partners over three courses before finishing Sunday at the La Quinta Country Club.

Ford will be seen on network television NBC Saturday while playing with Hope, Gleason and Casper. A few years ago, then Vice President Spiro Agnew gained immortality among the dufters of the world by bouncing a wicked slice off the Naggan pro Doug Sanders.

Presidents have to deal in the billions in conducting the affairs of state but they are like any other weekender — more conservative than most — in gambling on their golfing skills.

"Like Ike, Ford never plays for more than a $1 Nassau, $1 for each nine plus $1 for the match," Hope said, "but he takes it very seriously."

Hope was a constant golfing champion and close friend of the late Dwight Eisenhower. Proceeds of his tournament go to the Eisenhower Hospital.

Before Sound Guard, the only way to prevent your records from wearing out was not to play them.

The villain behind this destruction is friction. (If a diamond cuts through steel, you can imagine what a vinyl records.) Fortunately, from outer space has come a solution to record degradation. It's called Sound Guard!

A by-product of research into dry lubricants for aerospace applications, Sound Guard record preservative puts a microscopically-thin (less than 0.000003") dry film on records to protect the grooves from damage. Yet, remarkably, it does not degrade fidelity.

Independent tests show that Sound Guard preservative maintains full amplitude at all audible frequencies, while at the same time significantly retarding increases in surface noise and harmonic distortion.**

In other words, when applied according to instructions, a new record treated with Sound Guard preservative and played 100 times sounds the same as one in "mint" condition played the first time!

Sound Guard preservative comes in a kit (complete with non-aerosol pump sprayer and velvet buffing pad). It is completely safe and effective for all discs, from precious old 78's to the newest LP's including CD-4's.

Recently introduced to audiophiles, Sound Guard preservative is now available in audio and record outlets.

Mrs. Flora H. Bardwell
...to receive award

The BYU Alumni Distinguished Service Award will be given to Mrs. Flora H. Bardwell, Utah State University associate dean of the College of Family Life, at the Family Life Week banquet in the Wilkinson Center Skyroom Thursday at 7 p.m.

Mrs. Bardwell has been chosen by the board of directors of the BYU Alumni Association after being nominated by the College of Family Living for distinguishing herself in the area of food science and nutrition.

1940 with a bachelor of science degree in home economics. She then received her master's degree in food nutrition from USU in 1964 after studying at Colorado State University and George Washington University.

The banquet is part of the Family Life Week sponsored by the College of Family Living. The week has two more brown bag lectures and one on Thursday and Friday and a lecture at 10 a.m. Thursday in 1205 SFLC.

The 10 a.m. lecture presented by the department of Interior Environment will be "Plants in the Family Environment."

"Home Economics Education Prepares Young People for Family Living" is the lunch lecture topic on Thursday.

A BYU sociology professor is the co-author of a new book, just published, on the problems of homeless women.

In the book, Dr. Howard M. Bahr, BYU sociology professor, and Gerald R. Garret of the University of Massachusetts, draw on hundreds of life history interviews with homeless and disaffiliated women, according to Robert P. Suarez, publicity manager for D.C. Heath and Company.

Suarez said the book describes the lifestyles and backgrounds of elderly women living in small apartments in huge, shabby buildings.

"The interviews include those women who are 'making it' on their own as well as those who must be cared for by public shelter agencies," he added. The interviews contained in the book showed that the women fell into two categories, according to Suarez. He said that the first group was filled with instances of drunkenness, desertion, shoplifting, marital violence, abused children, and neglected obligation. However, Suarez said the great majority of women, who were in the second group, were reduced to this lifestyle by old age, bereavement, ill health and insufficient income.

He said these women resent the physical decay of their surroundings and the high risk of falling victim to thieves, muggers and drug addicts. Dr. Bahr has been with the BYU Sociology Department since 1973 and is currently on leave from BYU in Muncie, Ind., working on a special project. He will return to BYU next year, according to the Sociology Department.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A State Senate committee defeated a bill that would have required all liquor bottles sold in Utah to bear labels warning the contents could be hazardous to one's health. Instead, the Business and Labor Committee decided to call for a warning on liquor ads and signs in state-run liquor stores, package agencies and private clubs.

Rep. David C. Harvey, D-Pleasant Grove, sponsor of the original bill, said he thought the ad label "is a step in the right direction."

The compromise action on Tuesday is dependent upon acceptance by the Senate and House.

The vote to kill Harvey's measure followed testimony from Director Wayne J. Ruffell of the Liquor Control Commission, who said cost of labeling every bottle of liquor could total $800,000 annually.

Bennie Williams, president of the Salt Lake County Convention and Visitors Bureau, said he felt labels on bottles would be "just another problem with convention-goers."

Provo roof-climbers get furniture, money

Burglars cut a hole in the roof of a Provo furniture store and took more than $5,000 in merchandise Tuesday.

Lt. Bud Gillman, Provo police investigator, said a call was received from Brown Brothers Furniture, 167 E. 900 South, after the store manager discovered a hole cut in the metal roof.

According to Steve Ludlow, a Brown Brothers' employee, the petty cash box was found on the floor, emptied of $60. A warehouse man discovered that the television sets were gone.

Getting out of debt object of Bill Week

By JANE HALL
Universe Staff Writer

An education program to help families in financial trouble began this week in Provo as part of "National Pay Your Bills Week."

According to C. Douglas Beardall, president of the Utah Bureau of Collections, the purpose of "National Pay Your Bills Week" is to teach people how to straighten out their finances and to motivate them to start now.

The Utah agency is concentrating on teaching classes in finance at the high school level with some guest lectures on the college level. "It is important to reach people before they become financially irresponsible," said Beardall.

"Many people don't even realize they're too deeply in debt until their holiday spending pushes them over the edge," Beardall stated. "That's when they discover they can spend on credit a lot more easily than they can pay on time and that they have joined over one million other families who are in serious financial trouble."

Beardall explained that putting off payments isn't the solution to financial strain and troubles. In fact, he says, it only makes them worse. "The real answer is to get organized and start paying," he said. Even if only partial payments can be made, it is necessary to make them.

Beardall gives certain guidelines for people to measure how deeply they're in debt. For instance, that more than 20 percent of after-tax annual income is used for past purchases, or in faster than old on they are too far in debt.

Beardall also m skipping debt payment make ends meet and loans to pay off debt way to fall into debt out.
